BIO

Davide Ronco is a Copenhagen based multidisciplinary artist and designer. After a bachelor in Industrial Design from the IUAV University in Venice, he developed a more emotional and sculptural approach obtaining a Master in Ceramic Design from the Royal Danish Academy of Fine Arts in Copenhagen. He grounds his practice on material research and solid craftsmanship within the field of experimental design and contemporary art. By challenging the praxis from the conventional tools and methodology, he creates sculptural objects and archetypal forms focusing on the study of perception and the dichotomy between Natural and Artificial. Whether with sculpture, furniture or site-specific installations, his diverse work revolves around found materials, unconventional methods and up-cycling processes.

After graduating at the Academy he participated in his first residency at Palazzo Monti and in 2019 he opened his studio in Copenhagen. He had some exhibitions in Denmark, Italy, and France. His first solo exhibition was held in 2019 "L'illusion des Sosies" at Tableau Gallery in Copenhagen. Currently, he is working on his own and teaching ceramics at the Krabbesholm Højskole in Denmark.
